Hello from Sorrento Retreat and Conference Centre

Good day to you!

My name is Stacie Matthews, and I am the communications assistant for the Sorrento Retreat and Conference Centre located in the beautiful city of Sorrento in British Columbia.

Sorrento Retreat and Conference Centre is Anglican in tradition, ecumenical in expression, and offers an inclusive welcome and generous hospitality to all. The Centre is a place of abundance, belonging, and enchantment, a gathering place for all.

We are a non-profit society and a charitable organization. Sorrento Centre doesn't exist to generate profits for anonymous investors. Every penny we receive in earned income, and every donation and grant given to us, is invested in our beloved Centre, in people, place, and program. We are not only a treasured destination for many across Canada and internationally, but we are also growing as a valued community hub in the Shuswap.

Thousands visit the Sorrento Retreat and Conference Centre each year to engage their heart, mind, and spirit: to be enchanted, meet old friends, and make new ones. They come to rest and relax in a place of great beauty in the Shuswap region of British Columbia. The Centre has serene surroundings and a welcoming atmosphere, a space for spiritual exploration, personal growth, and community engagement. Whether it's a tranquil escape into the natural beauty of the Shuswap or a place for deep reflection and learning, Sorrento Retreat and Conference Centre is a haven for those seeking renewal, inspiration, and meaningful connections.

The main campus has 24 acres of gardens, orchards, RV sites, camping, an outdoor kitchen, dining hall, meal service, cabanas, lodge rooms, apartments, historic buildings, an outdoor chapel, forest trails, conference rooms, and many more indoor and outdoor spaces.

The waterfront park and beach are on the south shore of the Shuswap.

Just 2 km from the main campus is the Centre's 7-acre natural farm and protected songbird forest, and Community Garden. Fresh produce flows to the kitchen, providing tasty and nutritious meals for our guests. The farm supplies neighbours and the food bank with a variety of mixed vegetables. When in season, there is a produce sale every Friday from Noon to 1 pm.

We invite you to explore all the Centre has to offer!

There are many ways you can explore the Centre...

We are Anglican in tradition, ecumenical, and interfaith in expression, and offer an inclusive welcome and generous hospitality to all.

Our wellbeing is nourished by the land and environment that surrounds us. We acknowledge that the land we share, learn, and live on is the traditional and unceded territory of the Secwépemc people. At Sorrento Retreat and Conference Centre, we pay tribute to those whose hands have cared for these lands for centuries, exhibiting values of generosity and harmony, values we strive to live into today.
